PROBLEM STATEMENT 2:

The proposed ShopEase – E-Commerce Website Interface aims to provide a user-friendly online shopping platform where customers can browse product categories, view product images and descriptions, compare prices, check ratings and discounts, and explore promotional offers. The website uses HTML and CSS to create a responsive design that works across desktops, tablets, and mobile devices, making online product browsing convenient and accessible.

PROBLEM STATEMENT:

Traditional food ordering often requires customers to visit restaurants or call them to check menu items, prices, and special offers. This can be time-consuming and inconvenient. The proposed FoodieHub – Online Food Ordering Interface provides a user-friendly website where customers can explore restaurants, browse food categories, view food images and prices, check special offers and customer reviews, and access order buttons. The website uses HTML and CSS to create attractive food cards, colourful backgrounds, and a responsive layout that works on desktops, tablets, and mobile devices.
